Pavie 2016: Quality score vs price per bottle (£)

Like Angélus, Pavie is gradually positioning its price close to the Médoc First Growths, but has kept its retail price under £300 in an attempt to make its price more palatable.

“Rich, deep, intense, refined volume, great and strong length.”

“Seamless, sumptuous and super-expressive, the 2016 Pavie is a real head-turner [...] The 2016 is an exceptional wine. In a word: magnificent!”

“[...] Very sweet start and really hard work. But much less exaggerated than it used to be. Sinewy. Some appetising quality. Very juicy start but then it dries on the finish [...] For drama this deserves my score and it may well settle down to something lovely eventually.”
