Cheval Blanc 2016: Quality score vs ex-négociant price per bottle (€)

Cheval Blanc has made an important and positive move in its pricing strategy with a rise of just 2% on last year and releasing before Margaux and before its neighbour Ausone, that it has often tried to match in price terms. This should be embraced by the trade and consumers alike, especially given the high Quality score in 2016.

“A wine of precision and extraordinary beauty, the 2016 Cheval Blanc is also one of the highlights of the year. [...] It is the wine's feel and vivid personality that stand out most.”

“Lots of floral notes, hint of putty and then lovely richness underneath. Quite a contrast between nose and palate. [...] Tannins really present on the end. Very floral on the nose.”
