Les Forts de Latour
Quality score vs average market price

This second tranche of Forts de Latour 2009 will likely come onto the market at c.£200, making it the most expensive recent vintage currently available. This is arguably appropriate for a vintage whose quality lags only 2000 and 2010, given the ex-château premium. The urgency to get your hands on this release will therefore depend on how much you value provenance.
