

Vérité wines have between them received more than 15 100-point scores from the Wine Advocate, including two this year, for La Joie and La Muse. These high scores undoubtedly help to create a market for the wines, which are of exceptional quality.

"We tasted the three 2016 Vérités in London last week and found them wonderfully expressive, each with its own character, reflecting their different blends and terroirs. These are Californian beauties with an old-world sensibility. La Joie is supple and delightful, La Muse sensual and coy, and Le Désir sweet and sumptuous. The names for each cuvée could hardly be more apt." – Ella Lister

"The 2016 Le Désir is powerful, dark and quite structured [...] inky and explosive, the 2016 is full of potential."

Wine Lister's aggregated 100-point score combines quality scores from five of the world's most respected wine critics, together with a smaller weighting for a wine's ageing potential in order to give as objective an indication of a wine's quality as possible.
